Dom is an award-winning Supervising Sound Editor/Re-recording Mixer having worked on multiple IFTA, BAFTA, EMMY and Oscar recognised shows for the likes of RTE, BBC, Nickelodeon, Hasbro, Disney, Amazon, Netflix and theatrical release

In 2020, after 14 years with Dublin's Windmill Lane Pictures and Brown Bag Films, Dom took a break to look after his pigs and put the finishing touches to Ear of the Dog, his own 7.1.4, Dolby Atmos post-production studio based in Derry, Northern Ireland providing field recording, sound editing & mixing services. Dom was accepted into the 2021 BAFTA Crew & 2022 BAFTA Connect programs

This past year, Dom was the sound designer on John Carney's Flora & Son which premiered at Sundance 2023, BBC's Silverpoint, Netflix's Dead End: Paranormal Park, Channel 5's Maxine, ITV drama Redemption, theatrical releases Róise & Frank, Ann along with several shorts & my first Dolby Atmos projects (currently NDA'ed). Other work included foley editing on several TV series for BBC, Ch4, Apple TV & theatrical release. Next up in 2023 is sound design for a Channel 5 drama series and another theatrical release.

Dom joined Dublin's Brown Bag Films in 2007 where he supervised the sound design and mixing on many of Brown Bags Films multiple award winning long form animated series and shorts whilst helping bring many projects from development through to production. Notable credits include Doc McStuffins, Octonauts, Bing, Henry Hugglemonster and he was the dialog recordist/editor on Oscar-nominated Granny O'Grimm's Sleeping Beauty.

In 2014, Dom moved to Number 4, Windmill Lane as a Supervising Sound Editor/Re-recording Mixer. Here he continued to work on award winning shows from Brown Bag Films such as Bing, Octonauts, the short An Ode to Love and brought Amazon's The Stinky & Dirty Show from pitch to production.

Dom then worked with acclaimed studio Boulder Media on their animated series including Danger Mouse, Transformers and My Little Pony.

Along with his work on animated projects, Dom worked on various feature films and TV series ranging from drama, action and comedy for the likes of BBC, RTE, E1, Netflix, Parallel Films & Treasure Entertainment. Highlights included Netflix's Siege of Jadotville, Black 47, Maze & Making the Grade.
